California Manufacturing Technology Consulting

Oceanside businesses will soon be given a valuable opportunity to participate in a program called California Manufacturing Technology Consulting (CMTC). This program assists manufacturers, assemblers, and distributors that have annual sales less than $15 million, with subject specific issues or needs that they need addressed. The free program offers one on one consulting as well as a written report with recommendations on achieving specific business goals. The Economic and Community Development Department will notify nearly 200 businesses by mail on June 1; letters will be sent along with a CMTC brochure describing the services available to them.

Neighborhood Revitalization Program

The City is eligible to apply for $1,422,487 from the State of California through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP). The NSP provides funds to acquire and rehabilitate abandoned or foreclosed residential properties to reduce neighborhood blight. The City proposes to work with nonprofit organizations to acquire and rehabilitate vacant residential properties that can then be used as "next step" rental properties for families moving out of transitional housing. The proposal will be brought to the City Council on Wednesday, June 15. The program would be limited to Oceanside residents.
